CANTON PUBLIC LIBRARY
CANTON, MASSACHUSETTS

THIS IS C.H.S.

A bell rings . . .
Four minutes between classes,
The shuffle of chairs, doors fly open,
Students swarm from rooms,
Anxieties, tensions relieved.
Laughter
An exchange of greetings,
Rushing blindly, corridor tie-ups,
Colliding with faculty members,
Sneaking up the "down" staircase,
Monitors, helpless, looking on,
More laughter
Books dropping, embarrassed grins,
"Steadies" lingering a few moments together,
Girls in short skirts avoiding the office,
The office bench with no vacancy,
The buzzer—and into the classroom,
The laughter fades.

DEDICATION

The Class of 1969 wishes to recognize a man who has contributed immeasurably to Canton High School, whether it be in the classroom, backstage of the auditorium, or helping the cheerleaders with a spirit campaign. It is in gratitude for his devotion that we dedicate the 1969 "Echo" to Mr. Donald Quincy.

PRINCIPAL

Mr. Joyce's first year as principal has shown him to be a dynamic and interested administrator. He initiated the "Forum," a new communication channel between parents, students, and administration. Throughout the year he has shown a continuing interest in all student activities, whether scholastic, athletic or social. We hope this year is just one of many fine ones with Mr. Joyce as principal.

Now all is quiet, tranquil
The school is at rest.
The deserted corridors,
The closed windows,
The locked doors,
The empty desks and chairs,
The clean blackboards,
The empty bulletin boards,
The gum beneath the desks,
The piles of books,
The vacant bench,
All is peaceful yet if we listen hard,
We can still hear the laughter.
And we look back,
And shed a tear
To all we've left behind us.
Yet with us we take something more precious,
Engraved in our hearts,
All the memories of
The Class of 69
